What I Find Interesting:

What i find interesting about this topic is how people get smarter through out the years. Our brains start devoloping many new ideas which create more advanced things. For example like in the 1850s the people used to get a ride on horse drawn buggies and now in the present we have cars that go really for people who need to get to places quickly.In the 1850s people used to live a short lifes because their was no medecin. Alot of people died before they were even in there sixties. today we get entertained better then how they were entertained. we have tvs, which makes it even better.

Review:

honestly i wouldnt recommend this to anyone because anyone could edit this page. it says on that page that u could improve it. but i got some answers from that page because i knew they were true. so i would be careful if u are going to get some answers from there.
